The Appellate Division (4th Dept.) Law Library

Website: <http://www.nycourts.gov/library/ad4/index.shtml>

Phone: 585-530-3250

- Mission:

- “...to provide legal information to the Appellate Division, to the Rochester metropolitan region and to the entire legal community of the Fifth, Seventh, and Eighth Judicial Districts. Our role is unique as the only appellate-level court library in New York State which serves both an active judiciary and practicing bar, and is also open to the general public. Through our services, the Library strives to be one of the best court libraries on the nation.”

The Appellate Division Law Library

- Location:
  - 50 East Avenue (Corner of Chestnut) Downtown Rochester, NY
- Hours:
  - 9-5, M-F
- Staff of 11:
  - 5 MLSs

- Facilities:
  - 8 Public-access PCs
  - Document and Microform scanners for public use

•Circulation:

- Borrowing limited to members of the bar in NYS (attorneys)
- Most items circulate
- Over 300,000 volumes
  - 98% directly law-related

Who We Serve

- What legal resources are most requested by library patrons?
- Well, that depends on the patron:
  - Court staff:
    - Judges, Court Attorneys, Law Clerks, Legal Assistants
  - Private Legal Community:
    - Local & Non-Local Attorneys, Paralegals, Law Firm Librarians
  - Other Governmental Officials:
    - Municipalities, Agencies, etc.

Who We Serve

- Individuals representing themselves (Pro Se):
  - Pro Se patrons represent a unique challenge for law librarians:
    - Primarily due to concerns regarding the “Unauthorized Practice of Law” (UPL).
    - Our disclaimer is summarized as follows:
      - What We Can Do
Answer factual, unambiguous questions.
Provide information about resources that may help answer your question.
      - What We Cannot Do
Answer lengthy, complex, or vague questions.
Conduct legal research for you.
Suggest which form, statute, or case applies to your situation.
Give legal advice, which includes interpreting or explaining a statute, legal opinion, or administrative regulation.
If you need legal advice, we recommend that you consult an attorney.

Unauthorized Practice of Law

- What it boils down to:
  - We can help find what you might need...
  - ...But we can't suggest how to proceed, or help “interpret” the law. (That last part can get silly...)

It depends upon what the meaning of the word 'is' is. If 'is' means 'is and never has been' that's one thing - if it means 'there is none', that was a completely true statement,

— William J. Clinton —

In All Seriousness...

- Enabling “access to the law” is the most important thing that public law librarians do!
  - Access to the law is a concept that motivates me personally and professionally!
    - “Public legal information from all countries and international institutions is part of the common heritage of humanity. Maximizing access to this information promotes justice and the rule of law;
    - Public legal information is digital common property and should be accessible to all on a non-profit basis and free of charge;
    - Organizations such as legal information institutes have the right to publish public legal information and the government bodies that create or control that information should provide access to it so that it can be published by other parties.”*
- *Source: Legal Institutes of the World,
http://www.worldlii.org/worldlii/declaration/montreal\_en.html

The American Legal System 101

- The US was founded on a system of dual sovereignty:
  - State and federal authority both valid, but federal law supersedes state law
  - Result is a legal system with two layers
  - Each “layer” (state & federal) contains similar elements

Three Branches of Government

- Legislative:

- Federal: Senate + House = Congress
- NYS: Senate + Assembly = Legislature

- Executive:

- Federal: President and Agencies
  - Department of _____. (State, Homeland Security, Agriculture, Defense, Energy, Labor, etc.)
- NYS: Governor and Agencies
  - Department(s) of Education, State, Financial Services, etc.
  - Office of General Services, Information Technology Services, Emergency Management, etc.

Three Branches of Government

- Judicial:

- Completely separate court systems.
- (Usually) Only link between the two is if the US Supreme Court deems a NYS decision unconstitutional.
- They have similar, but not identical structures.

Overview of the Federal Court System

Final Appellate
Court →

Supreme Court

- Highest court in the federal system
- Nine Justices, meeting in Washington, D.C.
- Appeals jurisdiction through certiorari process
- Limited original jurisdiction over some cases

First Appellate
Court →

Courts of Appeal

- Intermediate level in the federal system
- 12 regional "circuit" courts, including D.C. Circuit
- No original jurisdiction; strictly appellate

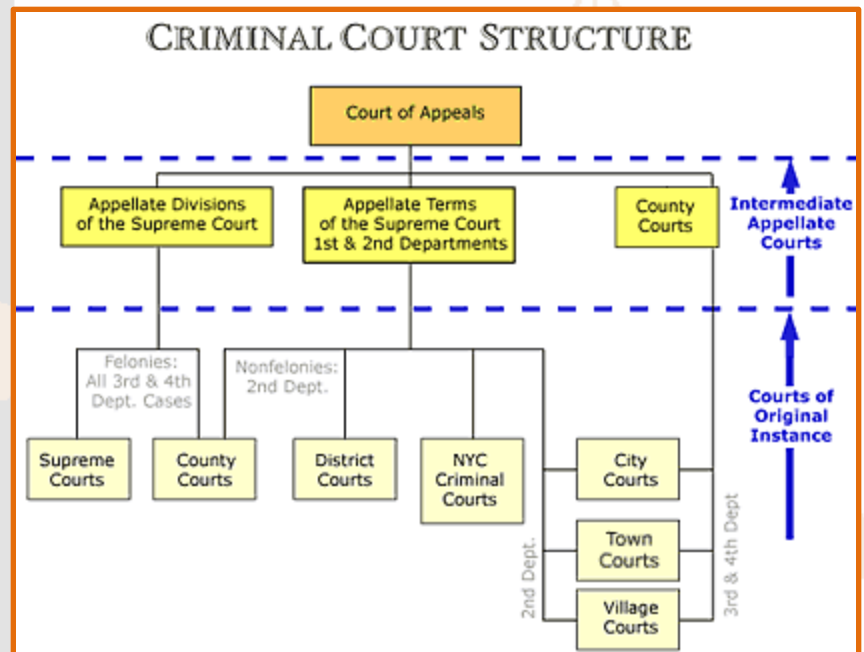

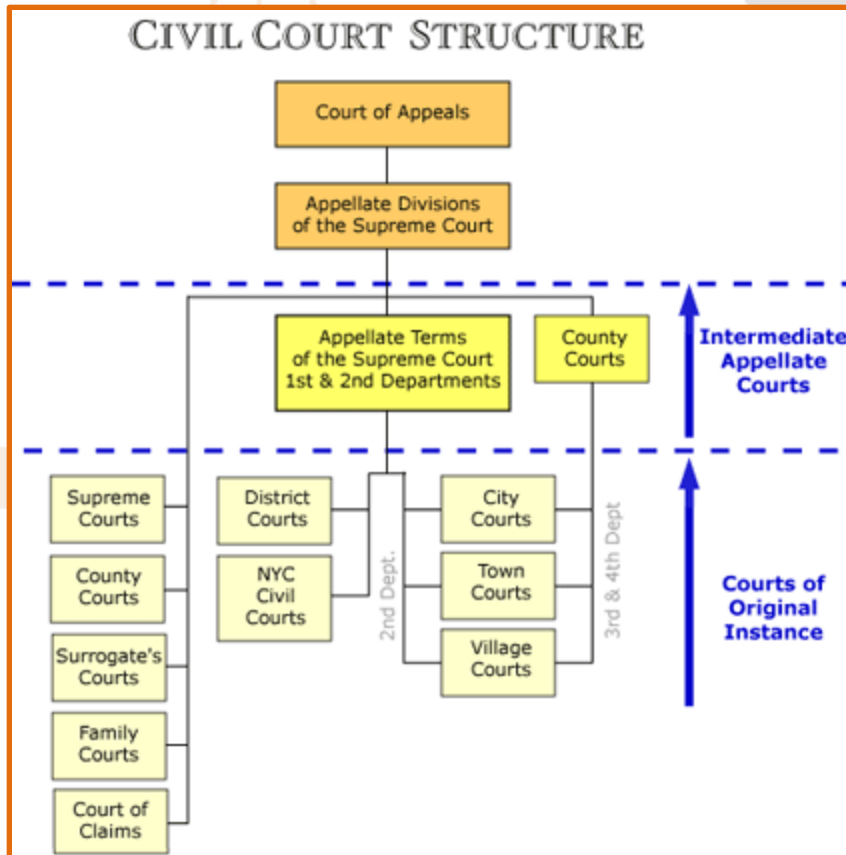

Federal Trial
Level Court →

District Courts

- Lowest level in the federal system
- 94 judicial districts in 50 states & territories
- No appellate jurisdiction
- Original jurisdiction over most cases

New York State Court Structure

Source: <http://www.nycourts.gov/courts/structure.shtml>

NYS Court Structure

- Essentially, the NYS court system is comprised of 3 levels:

– Trial-Level Courts

- County, Family, Surrogate's, City, Town, Village

– First Appellate Level Courts

- 4 Appellate Divisions
- Geographic jurisdictions

Rochester City Court

Appellate Division 4th Department

Court of Appeals

– Final Appeals Court

- Court of Appeals* (NY's highest court)
- * NOT "Supreme Court"

Common Questions

- As I mentioned earlier, at the Appellate Division Law Library, we essentially deal with four categories of patrons:
  - Court staff
  - Private legal community
  - Governmental officials
  - Pro se patrons
- We law librarians generally refer to:
  - Pro se patrons
  - Non-pro se patrons

Pro Se vs. Non-Pro Se Patrons

- Reference law librarians deal with each type of patron in different ways.

- Although we tailor our service differently, we are committed to providing the same quality of service regardless of whether we are dealing with a pro se patron or a non-pro se patron.

Assisting Non-Pro Se Patrons

- We help lawyers and their staff find information (usually) about a particular area of law:
- Examples:
  - Do you have a treatise* on _____?
    - *A treatise, sometimes called a “hornbook,” can be defined as “a scholarly legal publication containing all the law relating to a particular [subject] area.”
  - I’m looking for information regarding CPLR §3211.
  - I’m looking for an article, the citation is _____.
    - Law reviews, scholarly publications, etc.
  - Record on Appeal; aka Cases & Points, Records & Briefs

*<http://legal-dictionary.thefreedictionary.com/treatise>

Records & Briefs Definition:*

- “Briefs are valuable to researchers because they state the legal arguments the parties relied upon in pursuing or defending their case. The briefs also explain the facts of a case from a particular point of view.
- “The records include pleadings, motions, trial transcripts and other documents from prior stages of the litigation.
- “Reviewing records and briefs can help researchers to understand why the Court decided a case the way that it did and to explore the arguments that prevailed or failed.”

* <http://www.lawschool.cornell.edu/library/whatwedo/researchguides/supreme-court-records.cfm>

Sources of Records & Briefs

- U.S. Supreme Court:

- ADLL has 1989-present of microfiche
- Lexis-Nexis (subscription required)
- Westlaw (subscription required)
- FindLaw: http://supreme.lp.findlaw.com/supreme\_court/briefs/index.html

- New York Appellate Courts:

- ADLL has:
  - Court of Appeals: c.1890—present*
  - Appellate Division, 1st, 2nd, 3rd Departments: 1896—present*
  - Appellate Division, 4th Department: 1850—present *

*Some gaps in coverage

Primary Law vs. Secondary Law

- Primary Law:

- “A statement of the law itself from a governmental entity, such as a court, legislature, executive agency, President or Governor.”
- Examples: Casebooks (Reporters); Statutes (Laws); Codes & Regulations; Administrative Decisions

- Secondary Law:

- “Materials that discuss, explain, interpret, and analyze what the law is or what it should be. Secondary sources also provide extensive citations to primary legal materials and other relevant secondary sources.”
- Examples: Treatises, Law Reviews, Encyclopedias, Legal Newspapers/Periodicals

Treatises

- Treatises, a form of secondary law, are often the most helpful sources for lawyers and non-lawyers alike.
- Examples:
  - Stein on New York Commercial Mortgage Transactions (LexisNexis)

- Zoning and Land Use (NYSBA, New York Lawyers' Practical Skills Series)

- Landlord's Legal Guide in New York (Sphinx Legal)

- Written for non-lawyers

Examples of Treatises

Primary Law Examples

- Case Reporters (Decisions):
  - United States Reports (US)
  - New York Reports (NY)
  - Appellate Division Reports (AD)

- Statutes/Codes/Laws:
  - McKinney's Consolidated Laws of New York Annotated
  - United States Code Service

Case Law Citation

- Case Reporters (Decisions):

- Citations to cases often take the following form:

- People v Morel [164 AD2d 677]

- 164 A.D.2d 677

- 164 refers to the volume number

- A.D.2d or AD2d refers to the source:

- In this example, AD2d refers to “Appellate Division Reports, Second Series” (Consult Google if unsure)

- 677 refers to the page number

- Another example: 548 US 521

- “US” stands for “United States Reports,” which contains decisions of the US Supreme Court

Case Law Citation

- When it comes to case citations, remember...
  - ...Google is your friend!!!
- Let's Google the two previous examples:
  - People v Morel [164 AD2d 677]
  - 548 US 521

Case Law Citation

A background graphic featuring a stylized scale of justice. The scale is light orange and grey, with a central pillar and two pans. A grey silhouette of a person stands behind the scale, with their arms outstretched as if holding the pans. The overall design is minimalist and professional.

- New York Official Reports website:
  - <http://www.nycourts.gov/reporter/Decisions.shtml>
    - Two competing areas of the site:
      - Slip Opinion Service
      - Official Reports Service
    - Both ostensibly allow for searching, but neither are particularly user-friendly
    - Advantage is these are “official,” in that they are published and maintained by the state
- Even after you’ve tried all these tools, your patron may still be asking...

Where's My Case?

- This may be a surprise to you, but the vast majority of cases are not published anywhere.
- By law, the only cases that must be published are those that reach the appellate level.
- This is a product of history:
  - Court “reporters”
    - Most rulings were oral
    - Reporters attended and took notes
    - Published and sold to lawyers
    - Though modified through legislation, this system is still in place

Where's My Case?

A faint background graphic featuring a stylized scale of justice. The scale is light gray with two pans hanging from a central beam. Behind the scale is a light gray silhouette of a person standing with arms outstretched, as if holding the scale. The entire graphic is set against a light beige background with some darker beige horizontal bands.

- For “unpublished” cases, one will usually have to contact the court or the county clerk where the case took place.
- Monroe County:
  - Information page:
<http://www2.monroecounty.gov/clerk-records.php>
  - Monroe County Clerk Online Office (database)
<http://www2.monroecounty.gov/clerk-records.php>
    - Registration required
    - Technically...challenging
      - Requires the perfect matrix of browser/java/plug-in/add-on to work right.

Statute Citations

- When assisting pro se patrons, he/she will often have documents indicating they have been charged with a particular offense.
  - For example, PEN §120.45
  - It may also be listed as “section 120.45 of the Penal Law”

- Since we have a set of McKinney's Consolidated Laws of New York Annotated, my next step is locate the statute within the text:
  - This is actually very easy to do...
  - ...even easier than using a computer.

Statute Citations

- However, since a single set of “McKinney’s” costs $11,428, chances are your library does not own a copy.
  - Again, when it comes to statute citations,
    - Google is your friend!

Statute Citations

- Let's conduct a Google search for:
  - NYS PEN 120.45 (or)
  - NY Penal Law section 120.45
  - What results did you get?
    - http://law.onecle.com/new-york/penal/PEN0120.45\_120.45.html
    - <http://ypdcrime.com/penal.law/article120.htm>
    - <http://codes.findlaw.com/ny/penal-law/pen-sect-120-45.html>
  - All three sites above generally have up-to-date, accurate information.
    - I trust FindLaw more than the other two.
    - None of the above are the “official” site...

Statutes Online – NYS's

public.legalinfo.state.ny.us Website

- To get to the “official” site, Google New York Laws or Laws of New York:
  - Top result should be <http://public.legalinfo.state.ny.us/lawssrch.cgi?NVLWO:>
- Closest thing to an “official” free, online source for New York State statutes.
- Let's attempt a “Search [for a] Word or Phrase”
  - Using the search box near the top of the page
  - Search for anything you like...
  - Chances are, you'll end up with...

Statutes Online – NYS's “public.legalinfo.state.ny.us” Website

Frustration

It's not that you CAN'T... or don't WANT to.
It's that THEY won't let you.

Luckily, You Have Options!

A stylized illustration of a person in a grey suit holding a large scale of justice. The person is positioned in the center, with their arms outstretched. The scale is a simple line drawing with two pans hanging from a central point. The background is white with some light grey and orange accents.

- Other sources for NYS statutes online:
  - <http://law.onecle.com/new-york/>
    - No search capability, no better than state site
  - <http://codes.lp.findlaw.com/nycode>
    - Search capability
    - Enter PEN 120.45...you actually get the correct result!
    - Actually works better than the NYS site (shocking, I know)

FindLaw®

Other Common Questions:

Forms

- One of the most common questions we get from pro se patrons, and...
- ...one of the most frustrating to answer.
- Remember, we are barred by law from recommending a specific form or assisting in filling out the form. (UPL)
- However, the frustration stems more from the inadequacy of any single source to satisfy patron requests for legal forms, and...

Other Common Questions:

Forms

- ...the fact that “forms” is a misnomer.
- Legal “forms” should probably be called “templates”
- True “fill-in-the-blank” style forms are relatively rare.
- Even the best forms available are actually templates.

Other Online Resources

- In my opinion, one of the best sites out there for legal information intended for non-attorneys.
- Organized by legal subject area.
- Only site of its kind that allows users to intuitively get legal information.

Other Online Resources

- Monroe County Bar Association

<https://www.mcba.org/>

– Lawyer Referral Service:

- <https://www.mcba.org/for-the-public/find-a-lawyer.aspx>

- $40 fee

- I've received a wide range of feedback about this service

Last but not least...

- Unless I know of a specific resource elsewhere, I begin almost all forms-based questions with a Google search.
- I have found dozens of forms through the years by conducting specific searches in Google.

- The trick is knowing the specific terminology to enter for search terms, for example:
- Enter: commercial lease agreement form new york
  - One of the first results is:
  - <http://www.ilrg.com/forms/lease-comm/us/ny>
  - Although this is a “pay to download” form, the user could easily copy & paste and/or re-create the form using simple word processing software.
