

My name is Nicolás N. Rodríguez, and I am a 3L at Columbia Law School. At CLS, I have been involved with the Asylum and Refugee Moot Court team as a competitor and a coach, the Latinx Law Students Association as admissions chair, and the Columbia Law Review as the Executive Essays Editor. This semester, I am participating in the Second Circuit externship program, working with Judge Lohier and his law clerks. After graduation, I will go to Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP in Washington, DC.
