Vehicle & Traffic Law 1192 (4-a)

[1] If the defendant has within the previous ten years been convicted of a violation of Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1192(2), (2-a), (3), (4) or (4-a), or of Penal Law §§ 120.03, 120.04, 125.12, or 125.13, a conviction of driving while intoxicated per se is a class E felony. Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1193(1)(c)(i).

[2] If the defendant has within the previous ten years twice been convicted of any of those crimes, a conviction of driving while intoxicated per se is a class D felony. Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1193(1)(c)(ii). For the gradation of the offense for "special vehicles" see Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1193(1)(d).

Thus, an additional element of this crime when charged as a Class D or E felony is that the defendant has previously been convicted of one or more particular crimes. That element must be charged in a special information, and after commencement of trial the defendant must be arraigned on that special information. If, upon such arraignment, the defendant admits the element, the court must not make any reference to it in the definition of the offense or in listing the elements of the offense. But if the defendant denies the element or remains mute, the court must add the element to the definition of the offense and the list of elements. CPL § 200.60. See People v. Cooper, 78 N.Y.2d 476 (1991).

<sup>2</sup> The 2008 revision was for the purpose of providing a clearer definition of "operates" by removing the language "for the purpose of placing it in operation" and replacing such language with "for the purpose of placing the vehicle in motion." See People v. Alamo, 34 NY2d 453, 458 (1974); People v. Marriott, 37 AD2d 868 (3d Dept 1971); People v. O'Connor, 159 Misc.2d 1072, 1074-1075 (Dist Ct, Suffolk, 1994). See also People v. Prescott, 95 NY2d 655, 662 (2001).

The December 2021 revision was for the purpose of revising the definition of when a person's ability to operate a motor vehicle is impaired by the use of a drug to conform with the holdings of People v. Cadan, 189 A.D.3d 84 (3d Dept 2020) (impaired by drug) and People v. Cruz, 48 NY2d 419, 428 (1979) (impaired by alcohol).

Under our law, no person shall operate a motor vehicle while the person's ability to operate such motor vehicle is impaired by the combined influence of drugs or of alcohol and any drug or drugs.

The following terms used in that definition have a special meaning:

MOTOR VEHICLE means every vehicle operated or driven upon a public highway [private road open to motor vehicle traffic] [parking lot] which is propelled by any power other than muscular power.<sup>3</sup>

To OPERATE a motor vehicle means to drive it.

[NOTE: Add the following if there is an issue as to operation:

A person also OPERATES a motor vehicle when such person is sitting behind the wheel of a motor vehicle for the purpose of placing the vehicle in motion, and when the motor vehicle is moving, or even if it is not moving, the engine is running.<sup>4</sup>]

The word DRUG includes (specify).<sup>5</sup>

A person's ability to operate a motor vehicle is IMPAIRED by the combined influence of drugs or of alcohol and a drug or drugs when that person's combined use of drugs or of alcohol and a drug or drugs has rendered that person incapable of <sup>3</sup> The term "motor vehicle" is defined in Vehicle and Traffic Law § 125. That definition contains exceptions which are not set forth in the text of the charge. The term "public highway" appearing in the definition of "motor vehicle" is itself separately defined in Vehicle and Traffic Law § 134. Further, while the definition of "motor vehicle" is restricted to a vehicle operated or driven on a "public highway," the provisions of Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1192 expressly apply to "public highways, private roads open to motor vehicle traffic and any other parking lot." Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1192(7). (The term "parking lot" is also specially defined by Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1192[7]. See also People v. Williams, 66 N.Y.2d 659 [1985].) The definition of "motor vehicle" has been modified to accord with its meaning as applied to Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1192.

employing the physical and mental abilities which that person is expected to possess in order to operate a vehicle as a reasonable and prudent driver.<sup>6</sup>

The law does not require any particular chemical or physical test to prove that a person's ability to operate a motor vehicle was impaired by a combination of drugs or of alcohol and a drug or drugs. To determine whether the defendant's ability to operate a motor vehicle was impaired, you may consider all the surrounding facts and circumstances, including, for example:

the defendant's physical condition and appearance, balance and coordination, and manner of speech;

the presence or absence of an odor of alcohol or a drug or drugs;

the manner in which the defendant operated the motor vehicle;

[opinion testimony regarding the defendant's sobriety or of the defendant's being under the influence of a drug or drugs;]

[the circumstances surrounding any accident].

[the results of any test for the presence of alcohol or a drug or drugs in the defendant's blood].

[NOTE: If there is evidence of alcohol or a drug or drugs in the defendant's blood, add, as appropriate, the following paragraphs:

In considering the results of any test given to determine the content of the defendant's blood you must consider:

<sup>6</sup> As indicated in footnote (1), this definition was revised in December 2021 to conform the holdings of People v. Cadan, 189 A.D.3d 84 (3d Dept 2020) (drugs) and People v. Cruz, 48 N.Y.2d 419, 427 (1979) (alcohol). The former definition read: "A person's ability to operate a motor vehicle is IMPAIRED by the combined influence of drugs or of alcohol and a drug or drugs when a combination of drugs or of alcohol and a drug or drugs has actually impaired, to any extent, the physical and mental abilities which such person is expected to possess in order to operate a vehicle as a reasonable and prudent driver."

the qualifications and reliability of the person who gave the test;

the lapse of time between the operation of the motor vehicle and the giving of the test;

whether the device used was in good working order at the time the test was administered; and whether the test was properly given.<sup>7</sup>

(Evidence that the test was administered by a person possessing a valid New York State Department of Health permit to administer such test allows, but does not require, the inference that the test was properly given.)<sup>8</sup>]

[NOTE: If there was an improper refusal to submit to a test, add:

Under our law, if a person has been given a clear and unequivocal warning of the consequences of refusing to submit to a chemical test and persists in refusing to submit to such test, and there is no innocent explanation for such refusal, then the jury may, but is not required to, infer that the defendant refused to submit to a chemical test because he or she feared that the test would disclose evidence of the presence of alcohol, a drug, or drugs in violation of law.<sup>9</sup>]

In order for you to find the defendant guilty of this crime, the People are required to prove, from all of the evidence in the case, beyond a reasonable doubt, both of the following two elements:

1. That on or about (date), in the County of (county), the defendant, (defendant's name), operated a motor vehicle; and

2. That the defendant did so while his/her ability to operate the motor vehicle was impaired by the combined influence of drugs or of alcohol and any drug or drugs.

If you find the People have proven beyond a reasonable doubt both of those elements, you must find the defendant guilty of this crime.

If you find the People have not proven beyond a reasonable doubt either one or both of those elements, you must find the defendant not guilty of this crime.
